

Pueblo

Ascanio Celestini | David Murgia
Belgium – Italy | Theatre

Pueblo is the story of a beggar who doesn't panhandle and an 8 year old gypsy who smokes, the story of a bar manager who earns her living with slot machines, an African caretaker and a handful of unknowns. This is the story of a hundred million dead Africans at the bottom of the sea. This is the story of a supermarket checkout girl and all the people she meets. This is the story of a rainy day.

«Ascanio Celestini and David Murgia magically blend their worlds on this incredible journey into the ghetto, where even freeze-dried soup seems like a life-affirming potion...» Le Soir (2020)

«David Murgia, with his long hair and torn clothes, brings the text to life with energy, care and humour...» La Libre Belgique (2020)
