

Pouvoir

Une Tribu Collectif

Belgium | Puppet theatre

Have you ever thought of a puppet's life? Never to make any decisions. Never to think. Never to choose. An entire life delegated to others: manipulators.

Is it wonderful or is it horrible? And what can a puppet who plays in the same show over and over again, a show she doesn't like, do? What can she do to change things?

Well, she decides to do whatever is possible to take control. To control the puppeteers in turn. She no longer wants to live vicariously. She wants to make her own decisions. But to do that, she will have to convince the puppeteers who don't want to lose their job... Which raises the following question, "Is it possible to dream of another system? ».

Une Tribu Collectif's influences are multiple, from the theatre of Joël

Pommerat and Blind Summit to dancing and movement work via the compelling world of the German puppeteer and dancer Ilka Schönbein.

► FEBRUARY 6 & 7 – 8:30 PM – SALLE B9/ST LUC

DURATION: 1H | In French (from 14 years old)